Meet The Bazillions

★ Praise for ROCK-N-ROLL RECESS

The Bazillions are the creation of Twin Cities' parents/educators/singer-songwriters Adam and Kristin Marshall. Literally from their first day on the job at Kenny School in Minneapolis, the couple was writing songs for and with their students. Before long, the kids knew every word to every song, and parents began asking for a CD. So, along with their indie pop band The Humbugs, the Marshalls recorded and released Rock-n-Roll Recess, under the new alter-ego band name The Bazillions.

The instantly accessible Rock-n-Roll Recess features dangerously catchy tunes about macaroni and cheese, a messy room, accidentally breaking the neighbor's window and other events in the daily life of a kid. And while written with kids in mind, the songs can be enjoyed by everyone. Since the album's release, The Bazillions have partnered with other Twin Cities' creatives to create animated videos, fully illustrated sing-a-long books, art activities, and more!

The Bazillions are nothing more than real, genuine quality kids' music. Music that won't drive parents crazy. Straight out of elementary school, The Bazillions are ready to bring their tunes to kids everywhere.

Rock-n-Roll Recess

is exactly what a children's music album should be. It doesn't preach or demean, and it never goes for the low-hanging fruit.

If you'd rather share with your kids well-written, beautifully recorded songs about prepositions, careers and imagination than the traditional fare of animals, ABCs and The Wheels on the Bus, then The Bazillions are just the band for you.

Ken Denmead, GEEKDAD on Wired.com

Another Minneapolis indie band, another amazing song, another great new video.

The Bazillions deliver an eye-catching, paper-mache animated video for Super Sonic Rocket Bike, the standout track from their debut album Rock-n-Roll Recess. This tune (and the rest of the CD) is pitch-perfect twangy indie pop rock a la Matthew Sweet.

Jeff Bogle, owtk.com

Songwriters Adam and Kristin Marshall know how to create hooks that are irresistible to kids and parents alike.

Myles McDonnell, You Know, For Kids

Perfect for the younger generation. Their lyrics are witty and silly and, above all else, they rock!
