The Bazillions are the rockinest Rock-n-Roll Recess band around! Look for The Bazillions at your local elementary school, bookstore, record store, or anywhere you go for great music and loads of fun!

"...perfect for the younger generation. Their lyrics are witty and silly and, above all else, they rock!"

- Amber Bobnar, bostonchildrensmusic.com

"...'Super Sonic Rocket Bike' and 'Tommy Got In Trouble' are two great songs, worthy of great kid-popsters like Justin Roberts."

- Stefan Shephard,
zooglobble.com

"The Bazillions knock it out of the park with their debut video from the new album."

- Dave Loftin,

The Bazillions are the creation of Twin Cities parents, educators, and singer-songwriters, Adam and Kristin Marshall. Literally from their first day on the job at Kenny School in Minneapolis, the couple was writing songs for and with their students. Before long, the kids knew every word to every song, and parents began asking for a CD. So, along with their indie pop band The Humbugs (Matt Baccoli, Tim Formanek, and Mike Senkovich), the Marshalls recorded and released Rock-n-Roll Recess under the new alter-ego band name, The Bazillions.

The instantly accessible, Rock-n-Roll Recess features dangerously catchy tunes about macaroni and cheese, a messy room, accidentally breaking the neighbors window and other events in the daily life of a kid. And while written with kids in mind, the songs can be enjoyed by everyone. The independently released album has even inspired other Twin Cities' creatives to join forces with The Bazillions to support the record with original illustrations, animation, and videos.

The Bazillions are nothing more than real, genuine quality kids' music. Music that won't drive parents crazy. Straight out of elementary school, The Bazillions are ready to bring their tunes to kids everywhere.

Featuring Super Sonic Rocket Bike and Tommy Got In Trouble.
